Observations...

By UDELL

In an article from the state auditor recently printed in the ECHO, we stated that the Town of Waveland was to receive $7,000 from the state to cover the distribution of the $2,000,000 appropriated by the Legislature to the cities, towns and county seats of the state under the provisions of House Bill No. 1001.

A note to Highway Commissioner Smith... A white line down the middle of the present highway bridge will eliminate a lot of traffic hazards... If there is no guiding line on a highway or bridge a driver will just go along without paying attention to staying on his side of the road...

Now that the City Parks and Playground Commission has placed the slide on the sand beach, let's see if it can stay there all in one piece for the pleasure of the many visitors and local residents who enjoy a day of fun and relaxation on the beach...

Blue Cross - Blue Shield will enroll Hancock County residents in the hospitalization plan... They are now affiliated with the King's Daughters hospital... The signing of a contract with the Blue Cross plan of Mississippi which will provide members with practically unlimited benefits...

The Hancock County Hunters and Fishermen's Association will hold its monthly meeting at the Court-house Monday, June 9, at 10:00 a. m.

Today, at 10:00 a. m., the general public is invited to attend a meeting with the City Council at the City Hall to offer solutions for the parking problem on the beach front... Parking on the beach is quite a task... One almost has to park two or three blocks away from the business section in order to get to a store...

Dr. F. J. Lizana will be at the City Hall Tuesday, June 10, from 7:00 a. m. to 12 noon to vaccinate all dogs... The Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis has made arrangements with Dr. Lizana to vaccinate all dogs, in order to safeguard the public against rabid animals...

BLUE CROSS BENEFIT

Members already enrolled in Blue Cross will find a marked increase in benefits when using the King's Daughters Hospital after July 1. Special arrangement between this hospital and the Blue Cross plan will then give a subscriber who uses the $6.00 room accommodations, a service where everything is paid in full regardless of age, sex and for a period of 60 days a year for each member.

This service provides everything including X-rays, oxygen, operating and delivery room, all laboratory tests, bandages and plaster casts, all medicines, opiates, laxatives and penicillin furnished by the hospital and any other services needed. Dependents will receive this same service by paying only a $1.00 per day charge.

Those that are now members of Blue Cross will automatically get these benefits without re-applying for the service.

New members may pay for this special service between June 9 and June 23. A local representative in each town will attempt to see every family and explain how they may join. In the meantime a person may call by the King's Daughters Hospital where applications will be available and some one to help fill them out.

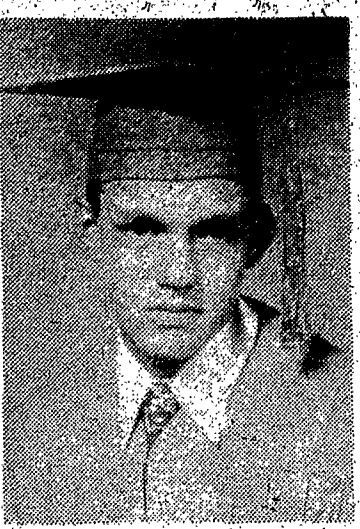

The doctors of Hancock County are also cooperating in this drive.

Membership costs in the plan are low. Representatives for this drive are Mrs. Frank Kiefer, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Nellus Rhodes, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Clermont Harbor; Mrs. E. C. Weston, Kiln.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

Destruction of city property is always a serious offense. But when persons, presumably young scoundrels, have the audacity and inconsideration to destroy beneficial playground property, they should receive the full punishment of the law.

The City Council has offered a one-hundred dollar reward to the person or persons who can give them information on who disfigured and practically destroyed a piece of playground equipment on the sand beach at the head of Carroll avenue. Since the incident, the City has removed the slide to be repaired. This is costing the City money, and the children of the locality the loss of recreation. The vandalism has probably done much to discourage the mayor and commissioners from spending the taxpayers' money for youth recreation. We hope it hasn't. It would be a shame to see the many children who do find wholesome fun at the playground equipment suffer for a few ruffians.

This should encourage anyone who knows anything about the episode to contact the City Council. The person who knows but will not tell because he or she thinks it would be "squalling" should also realize that by remaining silent, one betrays the innocent young people who have derived so much pleasure from the recreational facilities.

Unlike much of the local citizenry, we feel that there is something to be done about such disrespect of law and property. In the future, safeguards should be taken so as to prevent the recurrence of playground equipment damage by roguish characters, seemingly found in every community, who somehow enjoy obstructing other people's happiness.

Poultry Produces Good Income In Research Program

Net Income In Excess of $4,000 per Year Made on Turkeys and Broilers at Black Belt Branch Experiment Station Under Favorable Conditions

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. — A poultry project which combines turkey and broiler production has proved to be a profitable enterprise at the Black Belt Branch Experiment Station at Brooksville. The project has produced a net income of more than $4,000 per year under relatively favorable price conditions.

In a large poultry house, equipped with automatic feeding and watering devices, the average cost of raising a brood of broilers was approximately 60 cents per broiler. The average selling price was about 74 cents. Average number of chicks started in each group was 2,166 of which 2,073 were raised to be sold two months later. Each group produced an average net income of $297.

Automatic equipment is used to reduce the labor requirements to a minimum. Louie Walton, superintendent of the branch station, operates the project on a part-time basis as would be possible for a farm family seeking other income in addition to regular farm operations.

In addition to four groups of broilers, one group of turkey poult is brooded in the poultry house each year. When about two months old, the turkeys are moved out of the house to the open range. The house is thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before using it for the next brood of chicks.

The turkeys are then grown out on the range and sold on the Thanksgiving market, except those kept for egg production. The project nets approximately $1,846 per year from the sale of turkeys, and $1,280 from the sale of turkey eggs.

The poultry house at Brooksville was built in 1949 at a cost of $4,200. It contains a space 30 by 80 feet for the broilers and a feed room 20 by 30 feet. It will accommodate a maximum of 2,400 chicks or 1,250 turkey poult up to the age they are placed on the range.

Complete financial records on the project are published in the May issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available free from the Mississippi Experiment Station at State College. Four groups of broilers, plus one group of turkeys and the turkey egg project produced a net income of $4,322 in one year.

SEA COAST ECHO, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1952

WORLD PRAYER PREPARED FOR THIS SUNDAY

Millions of men and women of every race and creed in all lands will voice a world prayer Sunday, according to Lay Servers Group, invoking divine will to guide people everywhere in this time of crisis. The Group announced this World Invocation Day would mark the most widespread use in history of a single prayer on a single day by people of all faiths.

The "Great Invocation," as the prayer is called, has been translated into 48 languages and distributed by volunteers throughout the world, two million copies in North America alone. It is being used by religious and educational institutions and organizations in 60 countries. The Group invites all people of goodwill to join in this World Invocation on June 8 for right human relations and true peace on behalf of all humanity.

From the point of Light within the Mind of God, the transits Let light stream forth into the minds of men.

Let Light descend on Earth. From the point of Love within the Heart of God.

Let Love stream forth into the Hearts of men. May Christ return to Earth. From the center where the Will of God is known.

Let purpose guide the little wills of men.

The purpose which the master knows and serves.

From the center which we call the race of men.

Let the Plan of Love and Light work out.

And may it seal the door where evil dwells.

Let Light and Love and Power restore the Plan on Earth.

Rawls To Form Radio Ham Unit

H. F. Rawls, W8ZD, RFD 1, Highway 90, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, has been selected to set up an organization of local amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communication in time of disaster. It was announced today by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Rawls' assignment, which carries the title of Emergency Coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communications by means of the network of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of normal station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations using self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment are needed.

Mr. Rawls, as AARL Emergency Coordinator, will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the ham's personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include liaison planning with the local chapter of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies, as suggested in the working understanding of the AARL Emergency Corps has with the national headquarters of the American Red Cross and other agencies. Liaison will be established also with local protective services, such as fire and police departments.

In announcing the appointment Handy pointed out that radio amateurs have additionally had the responsibility of being in constant readiness to offer assistance in time of need with ham-acquired

County Agent's Notes SPRAY COTTON TO PREVENT INSECT DAMAGE

Don't let insects destroy your cotton crop. Check your cotton and see what damages insects are doing. Stop them. Spray or dust for control.

In checking your cotton fields for insect damage, look and see if any of the small squares of leaves are turning brown and falling off or if you see any boll weevils. If boll weevils are present or the squares are falling, make one application of any of the organic insecticides each week for three or four weeks, or until the cotton begins to bloom.

For early season control of boll weevils, thrips, plant bugs, flea hoppers and other insects use any of the recommended insecticides by either dust or spray.

SPRAY: While cotton is small use one gallon to the acre of diluted material using one No. 1 nozzle tip per row. When cotton is 12 inches tall begin using two gallons per acre with two No. 1 nozzle tips to the row. If using dust apply at least 100 pounds to the acre.

WATCH FOR BOLL WORM DAMAGE: Examine the buds of the plant and if you find three or four young worms per 100 buds examined, spray or dust with either DDT or Toxaphene. Worms are easy to kill when young and tender.

CHECK FOR BOLL WEEVIL DAMAGE: Examine squares for weevil punctures which look like small brown pits on the sides of the squares. Check 100 squares in several different spots in the field and if you find 15 to 20 punctures per 100 squares examined, begin poisoning. Make at least three applications at four to five day intervals.

Regardless of the material used, success or failure of insect control depends on your following directions as to how and when to apply poison. See your local County Agent for specific details.

CAUTION: Do not open insecticide containers in closed rooms. Be careful not to breathe fumes from concentrated sprays and dusts, and avoid as far as possible breathing the diluted materials.

Wear rubber gloves when handling concentrates. Follow field operations, or any work in which your clothing becomes contaminated with insecticides, by bathing and a complete change of clothing.

COTTON PRODUCTION TIPS

KEEP CULTIVATION SHALLOW. If you did not get enough fertilizer under the cotton and it is not growing properly, side dress with 16 to 33 pounds of nitrogen to the acre. Where mechanical pickers will be used it is important that the drills be kept level when skill, emergency-powered transmitters and a wealth of community spirit. "When storms disrupt telephone and telegraph service," the League's Communications Manager said, "it is amateur radio that comes to the rescue with operators and self-powered equipment, often as the sole agency able to transmit messages calling on the outside world for aid for the stricken community."

"To be prepared for this function requires not only a highly organized program of preparedness locally," Handy continued, "but ham outside the disaster area must be prepared to act as outlets and relay points for emergency traffic. Planning and organization are necessary in either eventuality, and that is the job Mr. Rawls is doing for this area."

VERSUS GOVERNMENT HANDOUTS

A few years ago there was a story emanating from Florida, and going around about what the welfare state had done to a flock of seagulls down in a Southern state. It seems that a tremendous school of large jumbo shrimp had been discovered off the tip of Florida. Shrimp boats from North Carolina to Texas moved in upon the large school of this newly discovered variety of shrimp. They concentrated their operations at Key West. Now, it is a matter of common knowledge along the Gulf Coast that after the catch is made the boats steer back to their base; the fishermen busily begin to sort the shrimp from the thousands of small fish that are taken in the trawls. They throw these small fish overboard; and it is a common sight to see flocks of seagulls following the vessels, diving down into the water and picking up this easy source of food. So according to the story the seagulls in that area also concentrated around Key West gaining their subsistence and getting an easy living from these small fish caught by the shrimpers. They liked this easy way of life and soon became dependent thereon, no longer doing their own laborious fishing. They no longer had to work; they no longer used their talents and natural instincts to live.

Then came the end of Utopia for these birds of prey. The tremendous school of shrimp gradually moved westward.

Thus the source of livelihood for the seagulls suddenly disappeared. The story has it that the birds held a protest meeting. Many of them were indignant in their denunciation of the politicians who had robbed them of their source of livelihood. Finally, one old seagull got the floor and said: "Now, I'm not for this appeal to Washington. I remember when we had to work for a living. We were sleek, fast, physically fit and rugged. We were happy then. But came the easy life when we didn't have to work for a living. You are spoiled, and it's your own fault. Let's go back to making our living the way God expected us to. Let's no longer be softies, sluggish, and expecting somebody else to do our work and make our living for us. Let's go back to the sea and make our living for ourselves!"

Well the other day there was a parallel story - a true story - out of the Far North. It began: "Government handouts have destroyed the initiative and independence of Eskimos once renowned for vigorous self-reliance in the far north, authorities on Eskimo life reported."

The story went on to say that deterioration of morale and health among the Eskimos, under the white man's socialistic system, was a chief concern at a conference in Ottawa, attended by Arctic missionaries, Mounted Police, and government representatives. Eskimos now tend to concentrate at posts where they receive government handouts, it was disclosed.

"There has been a consequent decline in their vitality and resistance to disease," the report con-

By - Gone Days

IN The Sea Coast Echo FIFTY YEARS AGO

Be it remembered that a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors was begun, and held for said County on the first Monday of June, A.D. 1902.

There were present: J. L. Megehee, president of the Board; H. S. Weston, A. M. Mitchell, P. J. Mauffrey, L. S. Bourgeois, associate members; J. P. Cazepeuve, sheriff and E. H. Hoffmann, clerk of the Board.

At the meeting the salary of the county health officer for the year commencing May 1, 1902 and ending May 1, 1903, was fixed at one hundred and fifty dollars, payable semi-annually.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The continued progress of the Mississippi Gulf Coast is indicated by figures recently compiled by the research and statistics division of the Mississippi Coast Club, whose recent story on coast advancement as shown by the increase of telephones in use during the past three years is further substantiated by a record of electric meters in operation during this same period.

It is most remarkable to note how closely the communities have kept pace with each other in their effort to have the coast well lighted. Each one shows a consistent and gratifying increase. The meter record is as follows:

Bay St. Louis	891	860
Pass Christian	308	431
Gulfport	1928	2865
Biloxi	1994	2434
Ocean Springs	289	308
Pasagoula	559	649
Moss Point	138	191

To adequately provide for this inclin. of some Eskimos to depend on government aid has, however, their desire to seek game and food in outlying areas."

And so it is - whether seagulls or Eskimos - or any of us for that matter. Life in a welfare state is often a hoax and a delusion.

WHO ARE THESE 800,000 MEN THEY CALL "KNIGHTS"?

Whether you are a Catholic or not, you should know the truth about the Knights of Columbus.

Is it, as sometimes rumored, a secret society with designs against our government? Do its members really take an oath to destroy non-Catholic institutions and to promote Catholic political power?

If such rumors were true, the Knights of Columbus would not deserve the friendship and trust of non-Catholic citizens, which it invites and merits. Actually there is no more thoroughly American organization than this fraternal order of Catholic men.

It is composed of plumbers and lawyers, farmers and doctors, business men and scientists - of Catholic men at every level of the social and economic scale. Some are rabidly partisan Democrats, others equally staunch Republicans. On political and public questions, they "choose up sides" with all the freedom and enthusiasm of any other citizens.

The Knights of Columbus was formed in 1882, by a small group of the men of St. Mary's Church, New Haven, Connecticut. They had met, at the invitation of Father Michael J. McGivney, not to form a national fraternal society, but to "render mutual aid to the members of the parish and their families."

In the years that since have ensued, the Knights of Columbus has grown into a fraternal order of 800,000 members, spread over the United States, Canada and other countries of the Western World. But its purpose of "mutual aid" and its principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism... have remained unchanged through those 68 years.

Millions of dollars contributed by the American people have been increase in electric power, the Mississippi Power Company has extended its distribution lines from 180 miles in length in April, 1925, to 450 miles in April, 1927.

TEN YEARS AGO
The President, Secretary Hull, Vice President Wallace and other top flight officials have warned the people not to become too optimistic - and to disregard the current crop of rumors to the effect that the Axis is on the verge of collapse.

The newsmen who were recently released from Hitler's Europe brought some very interesting information with them. Axis morale, they say, dropped when Germany and Italy declared war on us. But Hitler has most of the people sold on the idea that they must win or perish. They are doggedly determined to fight on to the very end. There are relatively few rebels - and the Gestapo is active and efficient.

It is possible, of course, that the war could end with startling suddenness. That happened in 1918. But it would be the height of folly to anticipate that. We can hope for a short war, but we must build for a very long one. -Editorial.

Much Outcry - Little Outcome

The story was probably centuries old before Aesop included it among his fables, about 550 B. C.

The calamity must have been some kind of earthquake or volcanic overflow, for, according to the fable, smoke curled from lofty peaks, huge rocks crumbled, the earth quaked, trees crashed and the mountains shook.

Trembling with much fear the people gathered to witness a titanic upheaval which was to mark the beginning of the end of the world. With one quake the earth divided and "a huge gap appeared in the side of the mountains. At last a tiny mouse poked its head out of the gap," and ran toward the multitude. And, so down through the centuries, even to our own time, men have said, "Much outcry, little outcome," the mountains had labored and brought forth a mouse.

Of course, we have always had calamity howlers. No situation may ever be quite as bad, or as good, as the pessimists or optimists would have us believe.

This is a critical year, election years always are. There will be those who sound alarms and those who point with pride. With so much political static in the air it will be difficult for some of us to keep our equilibrium. It may be a year of high hopes and deep disappointments.

But there certainly is one bright spot on the horizon. In 1951 the American people were frugal enough to save $13 billions. In 1950 they saved only $1.5 billion and in 1949, $2.9 billions. But liquid savings - cash on hand in banks, purchases of insurance and securities, repayment of debt - hit a post war peak in 1951.

Millions of people must have confidence in each other, belief in their country and faith in the uncertain future. The strivings and savings of our toiling millions is the great stabilizing influence in our nation's economy. It keeps us planning, plugging and praying to build a happier and more prosperous country.

So with all the hue and cry, let us not be stampeded into a state of fright or swept off our feet in 1952. The old world will not come to an end in our time. The courage, common sense and character of the people will triumph. They always have.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS CONVENTION AT KITTEWAKE
Members of the A. A. groups throughout the State of Mississippi are in the midst of their annual convention at Camp Kitewake. While the meeting, which opened formally Friday at 8:00 p. m., is restricted to members of the group and their immediate families, there will be meeting open to the public Sunday, June 8, at 3:00 p. m. in the Gulfport Public School auditorium.

Alcoholics Anonymous was founded in 1935 for the purpose of helping those with problem drinking to maintain sobriety and become rehabilitated. A. A. works closely with physicians and treats the alcoholic as a sick, rather than sinful man. The problem drinker is made to see that he has an allergy to any form of alcohol and cannot react normally to drinking.

Open meetings are for the purpose of general public education regarding the disease and assist interested persons in determining whether or not their drinking problem is serious.

Groups of A. A. members believe that at least 75 per cent have been helped permanently through following the A. A. "Way of Life."

A. A. teaches its members members to relax, to break the worry habit, to overcome negative attitude, to handle disappointments skillfully, to get along with people. After learning these lessons and having social contacts through group meetings, most alcoholics find that they no longer need alcohol.

cohol. These Ex-Alcoholics hold important positions, are enthusiastic civic leaders, and stand ready to help others attain peace of mind.

In the field of public health, alcoholism is one of the nation's worst scourges. It is out-ranked only by heart disease, cancer and tuberculosis. Alcoholism is "Public Enemy No. 4." Medical science has been baffled; organized religion has devised no successful program, but Alcoholics Anonymous, a nationwide organization of men and women suffering from alcoholism, has proved that the disease can be arrested (not cured) and normal living restored to all who honestly wanted to stop drinking.

Anyone who has a drinking problem or who would like to learn more about the progress of the disease for any reason whatever is cordially invited to attend the A. A. meeting open to the general public Sunday at three o'clock in the Gulfport Public High School auditorium.

Home Agents Notes Homemaker Must Be Businesslike

By MADGE ALLRED

What a homemaker does with the family finances involves every member of her family. There are a number of things she must keep in mind if she is to use the family finances to the greatest advantage. She must be alert and capable in her business dealings.

She should be familiar with such things as legislation, banking, installment buying, investments, insurance, wills and postal regulations, to mention just a few.

LEGISLATION. A wise homemaker knows about the laws that have a bearing on her home life. She makes herself familiar with the most important of these laws.

For instance, the Federal Food and Drug Act directly concerns every homemaker in the United States. You may be alive today because of this very law. It is the law that polices our daily food supply.

Another Federal law of great interest to women is the Wool Products Labeling Act. This law, passed by Congress in 1937, makes mandatory the labeling of all yard goods and clothing containing over 5 percent wool. Not only must the label state the percentage of wool, but the kind of wool; whether new, processed or reused; also the types of other fibers used and the percentage of each.

A publication prepared by the Extension—consumer education specialist and titled "Before Buying Read All Labels" is available at the home agent's office. It gives information on the Food and Drug Act and the Wool Labeling Act as well as other facts concerning labels and labeling. Ask for a copy of Extension Publication 217.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS. As the 1952 canning season gets underway, there is a rule you should remember: "It is most important that the manufacturer's directions for use and care of your pressure cooker be followed."

Unheeded directions are without a doubt the most important reason for spoiled food, wasted energy and home accidents.

If you use the bottom of your pressure cooker for a water bath canner, do not use the pressure cooker top as a cover. Use a tin lid or some similar cover. In this way you are sure to avoid pressure build-up.

The water-bath canner, used for acid foods such as fruits and tomatoes, can be a big vessel with a rack and a cover. The water-bath canner should be deep enough to allow an inch or two over jars on rack and about that much extra space for boiling.

Can sealers should be properly adjusted, cleaned and oiled according to the manufacturer's directions.

BLANKETS IN THE WASHER. Shrinkage of wool blankets from laundering in a washing machine is caused mostly by the agitation and mechanical action of the wool fabric in the water rather than by the temperature of the water, according to a study at the Ohio Experiment Station.

A method of soak-washing was developed to save blankets from shrinkage. Blankets were soaked 15 to 20 minutes in warm water containing a synthetic detergent. The soaking readily removed the soil so that no agitation in the washer was required. After the soak-washing, the water was spun off and then the blankets were soaked in two different rinses of clear warm water for five minutes and spun again to remove the water.

Measurements of 20 new all-wool blankets laundered by this method showed no more than 2 percent shrinkage. When the blankets were blocked and brushed with a small wire brush to fluff up the surface, they came back to their original length and a few even became slightly longer.

In brief, the rigid enforcement legislation passed by Mississippi Legislature in 1944, Game Warden Randolph Bourgeois has warned that anyone caught employing commercial devices for taking fish out of restricted waters will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

OPS NEWS

OPS Answers Public's Questions

The Office of Price Stabilization answers the following questions about inflation and price regulation.

Q. What does this court decision allowing Capehart increases to retailers and wholesalers do?

A. The effect would be to raise the cost of living, particularly in foods, where prices mostly are at their highest levels. For that reason, Director Ellis Arnall of OPS has asked the Congress to clarify the Capehart Amendment so that it is clearly only applicable, as was the intent of the Congress, to manufacturers and processors. The consequences of applying Capehart increases to wholesalers and retailers, says Arnall, would be a step so far-reaching, so disastrous to effective price stabilization, that the amendment to the Defense Production Act must be made explicitly inapplicable to wholesalers and retailers.

Q. Doesn't the steel industry have a right to profits under our system?

A. The steel industry is in business to make money—and that is perfectly legitimate. But there comes a time when people, acting through government, must say that higher profits at the expense of national stability in a period of defense emergency cannot be permitted. Except for controls, public would have no choice but to accept a price hike in steel that would put the steel companies

The State Game and Fish Commission still holds it unlawful for "any person, firm or corporation to use or set any type of seine, net, or any equipment or device for taking of fish in the waters of the Bay of St. Louis north of a line extending from the center of the mouth of Bayou Bois Bore, Harrison County sometimes called Maline Bayou and the site of the canning plant or factory belonging to Dorgan packing company, now the site of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club) near the bend of Second street in Bay St. Louis in Hancock County, and the rivers, bayous, bays, streams and other waters tributary to the said designated part of the Bay of St. Louis and all streams, inlets and bodies of water whatsoever connected therewith all in the State of Mississippi.

even higher into the excess profits tax bracket.

Q. Do you think inflation is still a problem?

A. There is not evidence that the threat of inflation or the problem of meeting it has lessened. Strong forces work to hold up prices. You know yourself of the strong demand for defense. The high rates of employment and income, public buying power certainly shows no sign of weakening. As long as that power is strong, prices are not likely to weaken for most things people need. Pressure for wage increases and the risk of reduced crops because of unfavorable weather are also inflation problems.

Q. I have to eat in restaurants a lot and it seems to me in a few places I don't get as much for my money although the price is the same. Does the OPS ceiling regulation permit less food on a regular meal?

A. The OPS ceiling regulation of eating and drinking establishments specifically provides that prices for a meal, food item or beverages must not be increased because of improvements in quantity. By the same token, meals, food items or beverages must not be reduced in quantity or quality as an evasion of price regulation.

Only $30 Welfare Checks In State

J. A. Thigpen, Commissioner, State Department of Public Welfare

Why only $30 in the State of Mississippi?—The above question is often raised by recipients of welfare checks, as well as by the general public. Attention is called to the fact that $50 is received in Louisiana, $100 in California, that there are no children's responsibility scales, and other such things.

Well, poor people can't have as much of material things as their rich cousins have. They may have as much health, time, sunshine and all things that God gives, but not as much of the material things as those with more money income.

Up until the time of the Honorable Hugh White's first administration, politicians ran for office on the platform that corporations with more than a million dollars were iniquitous and of the devil; that Mississippi is a poor man's state and we wanted to keep it that way. The Legislature had even passed a law which would not allow a corporation with more than a million dollars to operate in the state. Consequently, the Standard Oil Company located at Baton Rouge instead of Natchez. The Great Southern Lumber Company located at Bogalusa instead of Columbia, even though their timber was mostly in Mississippi. They divided their timber holdings among their directors at a little less than a million dollars each and built their mill in Louisiana.

We now have to entice industries with a BAW plan because in the early 1900's we shut the door in their faces. We are still a poor man's state, and because of that we cannot pay our teachers, our employees, or our old people as much as our neighbors pay theirs. Until now we have had no large cities, no steel production, no large factories, and only recently have we had oil production, sulphur, salt, and other minerals. Our two-year budget of 162 millions is the largest in history but it is small in comparison with Louisiana's over 200 millions. Figured in proportion Mississippi's $50 top would be equal to $130 top in Louisiana. Therefore, in proportion, Mississippi is doing more than Louisiana is doing for her old people. Poor folks just can't match their rich cousins in the total amount of money they have to give.

This department is going to do the very best it can with the amount of money available to relieve the needs of the less fortunate.

A "Must" for New Industry

New industries coming to Mississippi demand many services. Chief among them is one that's customarily taken for granted—the telephone!

Responding to the demands of growing industry and the increasing prosperity of the state, Southern Bell has carried on a vast program of expansion and improvement. By six years of hard work and the expenditure of over 60 million dollars, we have more than doubled telephone facilities. Mississippians are served now by approximately a quarter of a million telephones in place of the 115 thousand they had in 1945, and service is better.

Today, despite shortages of many materials, we are continuing to extend our system and improve our service to Mississippi cities and rural areas. Day by day we grow in ability to serve industries, homes and farms... and to expedite today's most important job—National Defense.

DROP 3RD GAMEThe Bay St. Louis Mites dropped their third decision of the season to a strong Tac Amusement Co.
team, New Orleans, at Morris's Park Sunday. The game went into extra innings with the score tied at 0-0.Both Mathes of the Bay and Brinkman of the Tac team pitched flawless ball throughout. Brinkman whiffed 12 of the Bay boys while Mathes followed closely with 10 to his credit.The Mites muffed a chance to come out on top in the fourth frame when, with one out and two on, Ronnie Handrickson was caught off the bag at second to make it two away. Dusen then spoiled Brinkman's no-hitter with a line-drive double to right center field. On the play Mathes tried to score from first, but was tagged out on a close play at the plate.The contest went into the sixth with the score still knotted. The Tac squad produced the winning tally by combining two hits and an error. Brinkman retired the side in order to end the ball game.
A small crowd, which consisted of the followers of the New Orleans team and a few local baseball fans viewed the game.
